

Full Job Description

Solid Waste Equipment Operator

Floyd County Virginia

Qualifications

- Driver's License (Required)
- US work authorization (Required)
- Commercial driving: 1 year (Preferred)

Are you interested in working in a great community, surrounded by the mountains, cattle, and local range country views? Would you like to make an impact on the local environment, drive a truck, spend time outside, and have a full complement of employee benefits? Then working in Floyd County, VA solid waste may be for you!

Floyd County is looking for a motivated employee(s) to drive a solid waste and/or recycling collection vehicle on designated routes throughout the county. Floyd currently uses a series of dumpsters and recycling containers (no curbside service), front-end loading-trucks, recycling collection trucks, utility trucks, and hydraulic lifts, as well as manual labor, to collect refuse six days a week. Employees may also be asked to staff the county's transfer station and assist residents with drop-off. Occasional dumpster and transfer station site cleanup may be required.

A strong candidate will have familiarity and experience with the types of equipment listed above. Some knowledge of construction and heavy transport equipment and methods and procedures used in solid waste and recycling collection activities would be a plus. Skill in the operation of tools and equipment is a requirement. The ability to perform heavy manual tasks for extended periods, work safely and establish and maintain good working relationships with other employees, supervisors, and the public is required. Great ideas about how to make process improvements are encouraged!

Minimum education is graduation from high school or GED equivalent. A valid Virginia state driver's license is also required. A commercial driver's license (CDL) and certification in the operation and maintenance of solid waste facilities are preferred.

Floyd County offers a full complement of employee benefits including health insurance and paid time off.
